

Redwood Middle School
“REDWOOD READS 2009-10”

Research indicates that middle school students who develop a love of reading and who read a minimum of 24 books during these important years are more likely to engage in and successfully complete the college preparatory curriculum while in high school that leads to post secondary success whether school or career. Therefore, Redwood Middle School presents REDWOOD READS 2008, an incentive program for students intended to increase the quantity of “outside” and pleasure reading. Students who wish to participate will read one book a month starting in October through May and complete the chart below. All students who complete the program and return their form by Wednesday, May 26, 2010 will take part in a special Redwood event. Return this form to Mr. Lepire.
